

AMCA European Fan Symposium 2024

10-11 July 2024

Schwäbisch Hall, Germany

Please join us for the 2024 AMCA European Fan Symposium, to be held in Schwäbisch Hall, Germany, 10-11 July 2024.

With a diverse and far-reaching agenda, this event promises to address issues important to professionals in the air movement industry—not just in Europe, but around the globe.

European and global speakers will address issues such as certification, regulations, market surveillance, sustainability, retrofits, digitalization, aerodynamics, sound, and motor technology.

In addition, there will be opportunities to interact and debate the issues while also networking with the industry's influencers and decision makers.

Register today for this outstanding event.

Transportation

The best airport for international attendees is Frankfurt am Main (FRA) (<https://www.frankfurt-airport.com/en.html>). >> it is a 2 hours ride to Schwäbisch Hall.

We recommend to rent a car to travel to Schwäbisch Hall.

For European attendees, Airport Stuttgart (STR) is also a good destination (<https://www.stuttgart-airport.com/?cl=en>). >> it is a 1,5 hours ride to Schwäbisch Hall

You could take a train or Rental Car. Your final destination should be "Schwäbisch Hall – Hesselental" which is only a 5-minutes-walk to the event location.

Presentation Information

Certification of Fans through the AMCA Certified Ratings Program and Eurovent Certita. Mr. Charles Meyers: Through the memorandum of understanding established between Eurovent and AMCA, a simplified path has been established for certifying fans for use in Air Handling Units. The presentation will outline the overall steps and considerations to make when obtaining certification through the AMCA Certified Ratings Program, in addition to obtaining certification through Eurovent Certita.

Certification of AHU, Sylvain Courtey, President of Eurovent Certita Certification (ECC), talks on third-party certification, energy labeling and market surveillance.

Revision of Fan Regulations in Europe: Mr. Geoff Lockwood / EVIA Chair WG Fans will provide an update on Ecodesign for fans, and upcoming EU policies of relevance for the fan industry.

Update on U.S. Fan Regulations Based on Fan Energy Index, Michael Ivanovich: Completion of the first U.S. efficiency regulation for commercial and industrial fans have finally been completed, first for the state of California, and then for the U.S. Department of Energy test procedure. The DOE energy standard has undergone public review and a final rule will be issued later in 2024. This session describes how the Fan Energy Index has evolved from use building- energy codes to product regulations.

Future ESPR (Europe): Mr. Alex Rowlett / Mitsubishi Electric Europe B.V. Corporate Office will provide a complete overview of the Ecodesign Regulation as companies are facing a growing need to switch to sustainable practices and how companies design and sell their products in the EU. In addition, he will explain what it means and how it affects your business.

Market Surveillance in Europe: Mr. Georg Haubelt / Ministerium für Umwelt, Klima und Energiewirtschaft will speak about the role of Market Surveillance Authorities and their cross-border cooperation. He will be analysing the EU market surveillance framework, its gaps, and challenges, as well as cross-border cooperation between market surveillance authorities and collaboration with and among customs authorities for effective consumer protection.

Retrofit in Refrigeration: Mr. Andreas Walter / Ziehl-Abegg Global President After Sales & Service will discuss how retrofitting can be a more cost-effective alternative to full replacement for improving an HVAC system's efficiency and performance. We will discuss retrofitting refrigeration systems with newer refrigerants and new solutions. We will describe some of the challenges with modern refrigerants, what they do to system capacity and control, and what needs to be revised on the system to provide optimal control.

New EPBD/IAQ: The revised EPBD will include IEQ both in renovation and new buildings. Clean buildings mean healthy indoor air.

Digitalisation: Emmanuel Val / Siemens Building Technologies Discover how change of digital technologies in the Heating, Ventilation and Air Conditioning (HVAC) sector has been transformational for the industry, as well as for those who run HVAC systems.

Aerodynamics and Acoustics: In this seminar, Prof. Dr.-Ing. Thomas Carolus / Uni Siegen will explore the latest advancements in fan aerodynamics. Gain insights into design methodologies, performance enhancements, and noise reduction strategies. Gather knowledge on practical applications across industries and glimpse future trends in fan technology. The topic will also address acoustics with an understanding fan acoustics, sound measurement and common fan noise reduction methods.

Motor Technology: Mario Käpple / ebm-papst, Director – Motor Development will discuss the latest developments in electric motor systems and their energy consumption, energy efficiency policies and programs, international standards, as well as technological and market progress.
